
The “officially released” date that appears near the beginning of each opinion is the date the opinion will be published in the Connecticut Law Journal or the date it was released as a slip opinion. The operative date for the beginning of all time periods for filing postopinion motions and petitions for certification is the “officially released” date appearing in the opinion. In no event will any such motions be accepted before the “officially released” date.

All opinions are subject to modification and technical correction prior to official publication in the Connecticut Reports and Connecticut Appellate Reports. In the event of discrepancies between the electronic version of an opinion and the print version appearing in the Connecticut Law Journal and subsequently in the Connecticut Reports or Connecticut Appellate Reports, the latest print version is to be considered authoritative.

ROBINSON, J., concurring in part and dissenting in part. I concur in the result reached by the majority in that I also would affirm the trial court's decision to deny the motion to dismiss and reverse the trial court's decision to deny the motion for a protective order. I disagree, however, with the majority's decision to reach the merits of the claims raised in the motion for a protective order and to remand the matter to the trial court with direction to grant that motion. I would remand the matter to the trial court for further proceedings on the merits of the motion for a protective order, and, therefore, respectfully dissent as to that portion of the opinion.
